Fan-Sash Making.

METAL FAN-SASHES, of various descriptions, will be made by the subscriber, at his shop, lower end of Duke street. The want of a Metal Fan-Sash Manufactory in Alexandria, has hitherto been severely felt by builders and others, who have been compelled to make use of wood, which is neither elegant nor durable. The various forms into which the metal can be shaped have given it a decided superiority, and the difference in the price is very trifling. The subscriber has been at considerable expence in procuring the necessary preparations, and relies on public enterprise for success in the undertaking.
Gentlemen in the country, by sending the dimensions of their sashes, can have them made at the same price as if in town.

Proposals

FOR Publishing by Subscription, and now ready for the press, a series of historical volumes, which when finished will assume the title of Universal History Americanised;
Or, an historical view of Europe, Asia, Africa and America,
from the earliest records to the nineteenth century—with a particular reference to the state of society, literature, religion, and form of government in the United States of America.
BY DAVID RAMSAY, M. D.
"Life is so short and time so valuable, that it were happy for us if all great works were reduced to their quintessence." Sir William Jones.

PROSPECTUS.

ASIA.
The Asiatic part of this work contains a general view of the antediluvians—of the general deluge—of the re-settlement of the Globe after that great event—of the primitive postdiluvian nations, which were formed in Asia, the cradle of the world. Their various ramifications, revolutions, and of the general course of Empire.

AFRICA.
The African part, contains a concise history of Egypt, Carthage, Numidia, Mauritania, Abyssinia, of the Piratical States, and the Hottentots, with a grouped view of its uncivilized settlements.

EUROPE.
The European part, contains the history of Greece and Rome, from their origin to their dissolution—of the various nations which were conquered by them—and of the nations by which the Romans themselves were finally conquered, and of the nations which were formed from the fragments of the Roman Empire, and the various revolutions of the latter, together with a view of the nations which never were subjected to the Romans.

AMERICA.
The American part, contains a general history of the Western continent, under the heads of Free, European, and Aboriginal or unconquered America. The first contains a history of the United States, from their first settlement as English Colonies, till the present time.—The second, of all parts dependant on Europe.—And the third, of all that are still owned by the Aborigines.
It is expected that the whole will be comprised in 10 or 12 octavo volumes, of between four and five hundred pages each—to be printed in Philadelphia, on good paper and fair types, for $3 1-3 per volume, in sheep binding, or $4 1-3 Calf Gilt, to be paid for on delivery.

AUTHORITIES.
This work has been in contemplation upwards of 40 years. The project of it was conceived in 1786, on reading the Universal History, then recently edited in 60 volumes, by a society of gentlemen in England. The original idea of extracting the quintessence of that voluminous work, which contained the most complete system of history the world had then seen, has ever since been enlarging and improving by an attentive perusal of the histories written by Robertson, Hume, Gibbon, and other modern authors—of the works of Sir William Jones, and other learned Orientalists—the publications of intelligent travellers, who, in the course of the last half century have explored almost every region of the Globe. These collectively have thrown a blaze of light on countries comparatively unknown, and on portions, both of ancient and modern history which were confused and obscure at the period when the writers of the Universal History published their work. The arrangement of materials collected from these sources commenced in the year 1780, when, in consequence of the surrender of Charleston to Sir Henry Clinton, the author was suddenly released from a sea of business and sent as a prisoner of war to the British Garrison then in St. Augustine, and there confined for eleven months, without any peculiar employment. Steady progress has been made for the last ten years in connecting and transcribing the work for publication.

UNITED STATES.
The History of the United States is given at full length—that of foreign countries is more or less expended or contracted in proportion to the intrinsic importance of each—its tendency to illustrate portions of Holy Writ—the Greek and Latin Classics—and also in proportion to its connexion with the U. States, or as furnishing useful practical information to its citizens, or as the paternal soil of their ancestors.
The above sketch of the nature and objects of this immense work, which has occupied the attention of the Author for upwards of 40 years, was found among his papers, and is now given to the public in his own words. Since that period, a few chapters have been added by the Reverend SAMUEL STANHOPE SMITH, which brings it down to the close of the last war.
The publication commences with a third impression of the History of the U. States, in three volumes, which is all that has ever appeared. The whole will not be delivered under 15 or 20 months. It is proper to state, that the gentlemen who have the direction of it are neither booksellers nor printers, and receive no pecuniary consideration for their trouble—but are willing to make the necessary advances to carry it into execution provided the sale is warranted by public patronage. The profits arising are to be appropriated for the support and education of his children, four of each sex: to them its success is a matter of deep importance.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE
AND DAILY ADVERTISER.

PUBLISHED BY
SAMUEL SNOWDEN,
ROYAL-STREET.

Daily Gazette $7....Country Gazette $5.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 13, 1818.

The following parody, by Braham, and sung by him at the Covent Garden Theatre, London, in a new piece entitled "Zuma, or the Tree of Health," was received with the most extravagant applause. It is an adaptation of the famous chanson, or Hymne de Marseillois, to words directly applicable to the present contest between Spain and her colonies

[N. Y. Columbian.

Peruvians, wake to glory!
Hark! what myriads bid ye rise!
Your children, wives, and grandsires hoary,
Behold their tears, and hear their cries!
Shall fell invaders, mischief breeding,
With Spanish hosts, a ruffian band,
Affright and desolate the land,
While Peace and Liberty lie bleeding!
To arms! to arms! ye brave!
The avenging sword unsheath,
March on! all hearts resolved
On liberty or death!

Oh, Liberty! can man resign thee,
Once having felt thy generous flame?
Can Spanish bolts and bars confine thee,
Or whips thy noble spirits tame?
Too long Peru has wept bewailing,
The savage power her conquerors wield,
But Freedom is our sword and shield!
And all their arts are unavailing!
To arms! &c.

FOR THE ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE.

Kircher, in that curious work of his, entitled "Mundus Subterraneus," speaks of a whole city in Africa that was turned, I mean the people of it, all into stone.—The idea was probably taken from a tale in the Arabian Nights Entertainments.—Be that as it may, the story of this petrified city was long believed though frequently contradicted, and often confidently asserted, though constantly refuted.

The faith in this tale, absurd though it was, had many proselytes even among the most distinguished personages in Europe. Among the rest Louis le Grand, or Louis the 14th, of France, was a most steady believer, having gone so far as to order ambassadors to procure the petrified body of a man from this singular city.

The wishes of a monarch so generous as Louis found the zeal of thousands ready to gratify them—and the commands of a sovereign so powerful, were sure to be complied with, if compliance were practicable. A sum of 500 pounds was promised to two Janizaries, if they would procure, for a royal collector, the important object of Louis le Grand's wishes.

After a considerable time, supposed to be spent in search of the petrified city, the crafty musulmen reported that it was not possible for them to convey without detection, a body of such vast weight and size as that of a man through the desart, but that, wishing to do every thing in their power for the satisfaction of his Most Christian Majesty, they had with considerable difficulty and danger brought a petrified boy, and a petrified bun, for which the ambassador, without the least demur paid the stipulated price, and the petrifactions were sent to France.

These expensive curiosities happening to be afterwards shewn to that very learned and shrewd traveller, Dr. Shaw, he proved, beyond all doubt or controversy, that the petrified Bun was an Echinus, and the stony hearted boy no other than a statue of Cupid, on whose shoulders the marks of a quiver, separated by violence, evidently appeared, but which the Janizaries in their mercenary eagerness, or gross ignorance, had taken no pains to efface.

POPULATION OF THE WORLD.

Europe, as it is supposed, contains a hundred and eighty millions: Asia, including Australasia and Polynesia, five hundred million: Africa, fifty million: and America thirty-five million.

Mrs. W——, walking on one of the wharves in New-York, jocosely asked a sailer why a ship was always called she? 'Oh faith,' says the son of Neptune, 'because the rigging costs more than the hull.'

ALEXANDRIA:
WEDNESDAY, MAY 13, 1818.

By a report of the superintendant of common schools, recently made to the legislature of New-York, it appears that there are more than five thousand common schools in that state organized acding to law, in which are annually taught more than two thousand children.

BARBARITY.

A letter from Smyrna of Oct. 15, 1817, states that Ali Pacha, the governor of Epilus and Thessaly, some months since, ordered a beautiful Greek lady, named Euphrosyne, of whom his eldest son Mucter Pacha, was enamored, to be drowned in the sea of Jannina, with fifteen of her female friends; but, as none of his subjects would execute his commands, he had the barbarity to carry them personally into effect.

From the Norfolk Herald.

AFFAIRS OF PORT-AU-PRINCE.

An attentive friend has put into our hands a letter from his correspondent in Port-au-Prince, dated the 19th of April, and a Gazette of that place, from which we present our readers with the following articles of intelligence:—

It was apprehended that the choice of a new President to succeed Petion would be attended with some difficulty and opposition; but, to the surprise and joy of every one, the election was conducted with the most perfect harmony and good order, and the result generally satisfactory to all parties.

With respect to our commercial relations with Port-au-Prince, we are assured that they are now upon a more favorable footing than at any period of Petion's Presidency. There is nothing to apprehend from the change—on the contrary, commerce will meet with every encouragement and protection under the auspices of President Boyer.

The letter states that provisions were scarce and in great demand at Port-au-Prince. There had been three arrivals there from the U. States, within the three preceding weeks, principally laden with provisions, but they had not reduced the prices.

Coffee was still high, and money scarce. Half the imports and exports being now paid for in cash, puts a great deal of money into the treasury, and of course takes much of it out of the coffee market. It is the opinion of the writer, however, that coffee will decline in price.

Prices at Port-au-Prince, April 13.—Flour, $25; Pork, 45; Beef. 22; Hams, 35 cents; Cheese, 30; Butter, 25; Codfish, $10; Herrings. 6; Mackarel, 20; Sperm. Candles, 1 25; Mould do. 30 cents; Dipped do. 27; Soap, per 25 lbs. $5 50; Lumber, 35; Cypress Shingles, 6 50; Boston do. 5. Exports—Coffee, 36 sols; Sugar, $11; Logwood, 30, on board; Tortoise Shell, 6 50 per lb.

From the Milledgeville Reflector, Ap. 28.

FROM THE ALABAMA.

A letter from fort Claiborne, dated the 9th inst. to the editor of the Reflector, states that "much alarm has prevailed throughout this country, and even at this place the inhabitants have built forts for their security; but the alarm has measurably subsided, and the inhabitants generally have returned home; many, however, have not, and some have sought new homes, and affairs generally extremely deranged. Three companies have been drafted from Tombigby, and will be stationed at the forts on the road. One company where the first murders were committed, fort Dale, near the place commonly called the Poplar Spring, seventy miles from there; another ten miles nearer (a little off the road) at the Pine Barren Fort; and the other at the Pine Orchard fort. These men will occasionally scout the roads and woods, and render passage and residence probably safe. The Tensaw settlement, (old fort Mims, 40 miles below) has also apprehended an attack, and a company has gone to their relief. Gov. Bibb is at present at his plantation near fort Jackson, and has ordered all friendly Indians off the public lands of the territory, or be considered and treated as hostile. A gentlemen here, direct from the mouth of the Cahawba, a remote and weak settlement 90 miles above here, states that some parties about there had refused to do so, had committed some depredations, and had assumed very hostile appearances. He was sent to confer with colonel Dale, who commands the troops in service. Fort Garey, near the Poplar Spring, was burnt by the Indians on the 2d inst. This was a temporary defence first thrown up by the inhabitants, and where they deposited the principal part of their common moveables. No lives were lost. This was two miles fr[illegible] Dale. Back of fort Dale, and between Pine Barren creek and the Alabama, are thick and almost impenetrable coverts of cane brake and cedar, where those nefarious and blood thirsty savages revel with their plunder and scalps—and are apparently safe from early chastisement and able to make incursions at pleasure."

We have just received information that the two Chehaw Indian towns, on Flint river, were attacked last Thursday by a detachment of Georgia militia commanded by capt. Wright. The towns were burnt and a number of Indians killed, our informant says about 50; the detachment did not lose a man, and had but one wounded. [Journal.

SOUTH AMERICA.

The following sketch of the life of General St. Martin as from the pen of one of our citizens whose opportunities to ascertain particulars, and capability of detailing them, are undoubted. Every prominent man engaged in that contest is a subject of interest to the American reader. It is from the character of a leader that deductions may be fairly drawn of ultimate success. [N. Y. Nat. Adv.

Sketch of the life of Joseph San Martin, general commanding the patriot troops of Chili.

He was born in the district of country called the Missiones, formerly subject to the government of Buenos Ayres, and is now about forty-five years of age, his countenance commanding, his person good and his approach easy, unassuming and affable. He was educated at Madrid, in the first military school in the kingdom, afterwards joined the army, and remained in service throughout the whole of the war of the peninsula, always distinguished for his gallantry, but particularly so at the battle of Albuera, at which he had the rank of colonel. The course pursued by Ferdinand, upon his return to Spain, was so hostile to those who had distinguished themselves in his service, so repugnant to those principles for which he had contended, that he resigned in disgust, and returned to his native country, and as soon as its emancipation was effected, suggested the idea of crossing the Cordilleras, exhausted his individual credit to obtain funds, and by his increasing efforts, raised, embodied, and disciplined an army of 5,000 men, with which he crossed the stupendous Andes, and after clambering mountains and decending precipices over an extent of country exceding 140 leagues, arrived in the plain of Chacabuco, near St. Jago, before the enemy had an intimation of his approach. He was there met by an army of more than double his number, and with his Spartan band he there decided the fate of Chili.

The passage across the Andes is, at all times, dangerous: there are passes of many thousand feet of elevation so narrow that mules laden cannot pass each other. The route taken by him was thro' an unfrequented path, longer, and of more difficult access, than the one usually travelled, and the fatigues endured so great that he lost 12,000 mules, two thirds of the number with which he commenced his march. The passage of the Alps, so celebrated in ancient and modern days, offers nothing in comparison. The African and the Corsican were respectively supported by powerful armies, and the resources of a great nation; this man created his own army, and relied upon the resources of his genius to surmount obstacles that would have appalled an Alexander. The former could consult seasons, and were prepared to surmount the difficulties they had to encounter; the latter explored regions elevated beyond a change of climate, and passed through defiles in which he was at any moment liable to destruction, either from the elements, or the more unrelenting hand of his enemy.

VICTORY AND GLORY!

The Reward of Valor and Patriotism.

The following is the most recent and correct news we have received here, and that through channels the most intelligent and least liable to the many absurd errors, which actually exist relative to the different contending parties in Venezuela, New Grenada, and in the provinces bordering upon the Pacific Ocean, &c.

VENEZUELA.

Since I wrote you last, events of infinite moment have transpired in the aforesaid provinces of Venezuela; but to recite them all would be too lenghty for the limits of a letter. I will therefore be as concise as possible, mentioning only the most interesting.

On the 2d of December last, a severe and sanguinary battle was fought between a division of the Republican army, under the command of the patriotic and brave General Zaraza, and that of the Royalist Chief Gen. La Torre, at a place called Hato de Hogaza, near Calabozo; the forces of the former consisted of 1000 infantry and 300 cavalry, and those of the latter 1500, inclusive of both; and although you may have read the official reports of the Royalists, published in the U. States, stating that they were the victors, yet it was actually the reverse, and no faith whatever can be attached to such (as the Royalists call them) official papers of their mandarine leaders—when the public shall be informed, that in the year 1813, on the triumphant entrance of the undaunted and indefatigable Bolivar into the town of Truxillo, on his march from Santa Fee, to re-conquer his afflicted country Venezuela, a royal salute was ordered to be fired by the Spaniards in Caraccas, and Te Deum, to be chaunted in the churches, in consequence of the utter destruction of the Patriots, in the aforesaid place, and more particularly for having gouged out the eyes of their conductor Bolivar. Nevertheless, he soon afterwards marched amidst the huzzas of the Caraquenians, into the same capital. And I presume it has not been forgotten, that these very Royalists officially stated, that they had taken the valiant Sir Gregor MacGergor prisoner in 1816, and after having cut off his head, dispatched it for Caraccas; but is now in Europe. Many such like official documents they have circulated, both before and after those periods, too numerous now to count. But to the fact: in said hard fought action, the loss of the Royalists amounted to 1000 in killed, wounded and prisoners, amongst the former was the second in command, and a great number of officers, with their General severely wounded; and the Patriots lost 900 men—but the cavalry of Zaraza not being engaged at the commencement of the attack, entered at the close and compelled the Spaniards to quit the field of blood, for a place called Calvario, and thus victory crowned the Patriots' invincible intrepidity.

General Morillo, maintaining his head quarters at Calabozo, to the close of January, or the very beginning of February, was surprised and entirely cut off from Caraccas by the skilful movement of the Independent armies of more than 8000 men, under the command of Gens. Bolivar, Zaraza, Soublette, Urdaneta and Paez; and Morillo (there being no other alternative left him) resolved to form his army into a solid column, and break through the line of the former, in order to escape if possible to the sea coast; this he effected with prodigious loss, abandoning all his artillery, baggage and military train, which he had deposited at Calabozo; and while pursued by a detachment of the Patriotic forces, he was joined accidentally by 5 or 600 men on his retreat, under the command of Lopez; he then daringly ordered but his recently defeated army, with this assistance, to advance upon the aforesaid detachment, which, being much less in number, fell back upon the main army after a slight skirmish; from this circumstance, Morillo wrote from Barbacoa, not in the form of a dispatch to his Secretary Uzelay, (who by the way had been killed the day before) stating that he had entirely defeated the Rebels, and that he should proceed the same night to Sombrero, to annihilate their remaining relicts—but on the night of the 17th of February last, it is confidently affirmed that Morillo himself was taken prisoner at the Sombrero.

A letter dated at the city of Caraccas, the 19th of February, says, that on the 17th and 18th of the same month, the members of the Audiencia and other individuals inimical to the cause of the Patriots, to the number of 6 or 7000 souls, emigrated on said days to La Guira, (as well as from all the other points in the interior, and even from Valencia to Puerto Cabello and Coro, taking every thing that they could with them on such occasions) when they immediately embarked on board the first vessel or canoe they could encounter; and that every thing was in the greatest confusion, for Gen. Morillo had been completely defeated on the 15th, 16th and 17th instant, and nothing can possitively be ascertained here what has become of him (Morillo)—some say he is a prisoner, others that he has been killed, and in short that nothing is to be heard of him." The aforementioned emigration in the port of La Guira was prevented at that moment by the commandant of the same saying, that such were the orders, not of Morillo, but other authorities in virtue of the victory which he had obtained near Barbacoa, as mentioned in his (Morillo's) letter to Uzelay. Salutes and ringing of bells was the routine of the day; but these deceptive rejoicings will prove as fatal and disatrous to the Royalists as those I have before cited on the occupation of Truxillo, by Bolivar, in 1813, and the beheading of Mac Gregor in 1816. In one word, these steps were taken by the old Spaniards only, to give time to such of their unfortunate and defeated companions as might have escaped the conflict, to arrive previous to their departure; otherwise they will fall victims of their own tyranny and cruelty, into the hands of their enemies, justly enfuriated against their oppressors, whose weapons have been stained and are still wreaking with the innocent blood of thousands of their fellow citizens. By a gentleman from Cora, with whom I have conversed, am informed, that while there, (9th of March) he learned that a dispatch had been received advising them of the defeat of the army of Morillo, who was taken prisoner; every one there being in a state of consternation. Remarkable as it may appear, not a single vessel has arrived here either from Curracoa, the Windward Islands, or Costa Firme, to give us the details of the above cited combats, or what has transpired since that period in Venezuela; yet it is confirmed from all quarters, that Morillo has been completely routed and cut to pieces in a general engagement, and that he has in all probability been made a prisoner, or that he has perished in the tragical catastrophe; for no more dispatches, nor news have been given or put in circulation here touching his fate. We await momently the pleasing official intelligence of the indespensible occupation of not only Caraccas and La Guira, but all the other sea ports of Venezuela at the commencement of March ult. as the Independents have for a long time been in possession of all the interior provinces and towns, and these last battles fought at the distance of two and three days march from the Capital, without any, or the probability of any Royalist army to retard their operations.

Land for Sale.

THE Subscriber wishes to dispose of the whole or a part of a tract of LAND, containing between 6 and 700 acres, lying within 5 miles of Alexandria and 4 and a half from the Washington bridge, and divided into four parts by the Leesburg road and the turnpike from the Washington bridge to the Little River turnpike. No. 1 contains about 60 acres, has a fine orchard and some young wood, and is partly enclosed.—No. 2, containing about 80, and No. 3 about 150 acres, lay nearest to Alexandria, and are entirely covered with a young growth of hickory and oaks with some wood—these three parts lay admirably for cultivation, and the latter has on it one of the finest springs in the county. No. 4 has on it a two story frame house with two large rooms on a floor, kitchen, laundry and smoke house, together with several tenements, one of which, situated at the junction of the two roads, is an excellent waggon stand, well known by the name of Bonts's Tavern. There are on it also, several orchards, some fine springs, and a never failing stream sufficient for water works: part of it is in cultivation and tolerably well enclosed, with a sufficiency of wood. The three first parts may be had separately, or the whole together at a very moderate price, on the following terms, viz. One-fourth cash—one-fourth on the first September next, and the balance in two equal annual payments thereafter, with interest.—Possession will be given the purchaser immediately. I. Thompson, agent, joint proprietor," &c. and should any be offered for sale without said label on them the purchaser may be apprised that they are counterfeit.

James Kennedy & Son,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from LEE'S MEDICINE STORE, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Teres or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN'S ANTI BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of

Nervous Disorders	Violent cramps in the stomach and back
Consumptions	Indigestion
Lowness of spirits	Melancholy
Loss of appetite	Gout in the stomach
Impurity of blood	Pains in the limbs
Hysteric'l affection	Relaxations, etc.
